C. Others Mentioned (backups as needed where speakers above not available).

- How to accelerate portfolio companies in terms of revenue, which will in turn accelerate exits. - per Larry Chaityn, Keiretsu Forum.
- Post-Investment: now the work begins. online software tracking investments after they are made, etc. - Andrea Alms.
- Questioning the Basic terms (liked AngelList, Peter Kay per Chenoa) and conditions of deals and a primer on the supporting documents - term sheets, convertible notes, employment agreements and such. - Rod Whitson.
- What's the current market for the various terms and conditions, - Rod Whitson.

- Angel group activity with companies after investment - Jeff Snellenburg.
- How to effectively serve on Boards... - Matt Dunbar.
- Sidecar funds: pros/cons and best practices. - Ron McGinley.
- Valuation best practices. - Sarosh D. Kumana.
- Alternative financing options. - Dave Russick.
- Serial entrepreneurs sharing mistakes with success. - Martin Tilson.
- Valuations on pre-revenue companies - Karen Rands.
- Guarding against dilution on subsequently rounds. - Michael Petridis, Axios.
- Term sheet gotchas. - Michael Petridis, Axios.
- Ohio Tech Angel's (John Huston) premortem technique. It stems from the work of behavioral economist Gary A. Klein (HBR article - Performing a Project Premortem). The idea is that prospective hindsight (ie, imagining an event has already occurred such as we invested in ABC Company and it is a year later and we have lost all of our investment) increases the ability to correctly identify the reason for the future outcome by 30%. Would be interesting to hear how the Ohio Tech Angels use this as part of their due diligence process. - Rick Vaughn.
- Best practices of strategic advisory to startups as an angel. - Chris Kay.
- Planning the Team Dynamics. - Karen Rands.
- Finding and being the lead investor. - Geoff Robson.

4. Update on the Exits Advisory Board. Congealing well, several meetings held, has begin assisting with exists, advisory and introductions.

5. Update on the regional syndications and progress. Switched to bi-monthly per feedback from angel groups (monthly too many, quarterly too few, every other month about right frequency). Participating keeps rising.

6. Update on the co-investment fund. Still in planning stages (nothing to announce yet).

7. Update on mentor matching system. Testing different solutions now, will announce findings at the next advisory board meeting.

8. Update on research study on past returns. Large amount of data now gathered and analyzing.

9. Other Items from the Floor

10. Next meeting date (Oct 11* and Dec. 13 at 2 pm ET for one hour). *moved from Sept. original date.
